1. MISSION OF UNIVERSITY OF SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY

The mission of The University of Science and Technology (UST) is to serve the people of Egypt through pre-eminence in creating, communicating, and applying knowledge, through science, research, technology, and academic values. UST strives to develop leaders and citizens who challenge the present and enrich the future.

UST prepares students to embark on 21st century knowledge society guided by our policy: “Admission to the university is only based on merit”

The University is defined by a culture of interdisciplinary teaching and research, coupled with academic rigor. By transcending disciplinary boundaries, we encourage our students, faculty, and staff to tackle complex and vexing challenges facing modern societies at local, national, and global levels.

Our programs are responsive to the changing needs of society and relevant to the goals of our students and the needs of the community. Our academic environment is rich in opportunities for independence and collaboration and reflective of the traditions of excellence, innovation, and leadership that the University aims to establish.

This mission is achieved by:

- Building a strong foundation in Sciences and Engineering.
- Providing the knowledge and skills essential for career and personal success.
- Integrating teaching, research, and service in ways that enhance the learning experience.
- Supporting a dynamic environment where innovation, openness, and creativity are fostered.
- Using advanced technologies to meet the changing educational needs and to establish links with the global community.
- Establishing partnerships with business, industry, educational institutions, and government agencies.
2. STUDYING AT UNIVERSITY OF SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY

University of Science and Technology is an integral part of Zewail City of Science and Technology (ZCST). It is the hub connecting academic excellence in cutting-edge research at the research centres and the industry through the technology transfer pyramid.

To accomplish its mission, University of Science and Technology invests in our younger generations through providing the optimal environment for learning and development.

The degree concentrations and study curricula at UST are carefully designed to prepare our graduates to tackle the demanding challenges in our region, ranging from endemic diseases and the need for improved health care systems, environmental management, and water treatment to the need for renewable energy. UST graduates are expected to acquire a deep understanding of basic sciences as well as hands-on experience with cutting-edge technologies. The concentrations offered at UST expose the students to research facilities and laboratories enabling them to conduct both basic scientific research and industry-linked research projects. The interdisciplinary nature of UST programs provides ample opportunities for sharing knowledge and creative thinking among its students. This is essential to enable its graduates to develop novel, non-conventional solutions for problems that have significant social, economic, and environmental impacts.

UST graduates can opt to extend their academic careers and become actively involved in research and teaching. Use the skills learnt at UST in business and industry in both technical and non-technical jobs, or combine their technical skills with an entrepreneurial role in starting new businesses.
CURRICULUM STRUCTURE

- The curriculum at University of Science and Technology is structured in a manner that assists its students in building a solid foundation in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM) (Figure 1).

- The core STEM courses are distributed over the first two years of study as follow:

  - At the first year, students will study two courses in each of the following subjects: Math, Physics, Chemistry, and Biology. In addition to: six credit hours of Humanities and Social Sciences as well as a one credit hour seminar. The seminar briefly introduces the different concentrations at UST to help students determine the concentration that suits their interests.

  - In the second year, students have the option of selecting one of the four science or four engineering concentrations (Figure 2). In each concentration, there is a further set of foundation courses tailored to the Concentrations' requirements. In addition, students in each concentration will study at least one concentration introductory course.

  - Starting from the third year, students will start taking courses explicitly for their respective concentrations.

- Four different Engineering concentrations are offered at UST:
  1. Nanotechnology Engineering
  2. Environmental Engineering
  3. Renewable Energy Engineering
  4. Space Science and Communications Engineering
     - To graduate as an engineer, students must fulfill their degree requirements, including registering for at least 162-180 credit hours distributed throughout five years (including the foundation year)

- Four different Science concentrations are offered at UST:
  1. Biomedical Sciences
  2. Nanoscience
  3. Materials Science
  4. Physics of the Earth and Universe
Science majors’ students must fulfil their degree requirements, including registering for at least 137 credit hours distributed throughout four years (including the foundation year).

Refer to the study plan for further details
Humanities and Social Sciences curricula

- All UST students are required to study 15 : 21 credit hours of humanities and social sciences distributed throughout their curriculum.

- The humanities and social science courses offered include Regional History, Arabic Language, Technical English, Comparative literature, Professional Skills, Philosophical Thinking, and one extra course from a list of electives.

- In addition, all UST students are required to take a three credit hour course in intellectual property, technology transfer, and commercialization.

- The primary goal of UST is to have a new generation capable of working and competing within global standards and at the same time mastering their mother tongue language. Therefore, Arabic is one of the essential components of the curriculum.

- UST attempts to revive the glory and scientific leadership, which our region demonstrated during earlier periods of our history. Understanding history establishes a framework in which students can organize ideas, locate and understand their own culture, and learn from the past. Understanding that we are part of history, which is not simply a textbook subject, will inspire students to fulfill a positive role in the future of their country and region.

- One of the main objectives of UST is to bridge the gap between academia and the industry by creating new products that will have a significant impact on progress of Egypt. This entails an education that fosters creative and critical thinking. Its graduates will learn the process of transferring ideas from basic research to a marketable product, how to handle intellectual property, how to make a successful business plan. A series of courses in the curriculum fulfills this objective.

- Graduates of UST should be recognized for their ability to read critically and to write clearly. This capability is essential for appreciating the working of the human imagination, to discover and assess the values of the student's own culture and to explore alternative ways of looking at the world. This goal is realized by including a course in literature, a graduation requirement for all students regardless of their majors.

- As English is the most popular language for science and engineering, it is essential that admitted students at UST have a sufficient level of English proficiency. This will enable them to cope with international developments in various fields of science and technology. Accordingly, all admitted students must sit for an exam to determine their level of English proficiency.

- The Financial Contribution (FC) may be paid through instalments as per each student's payment plan through cash deposits in any CIB branch or bank transfer with submitting the original of the payment receipt to the Office of Admissions and Registration each semester.

4.3. Financial Support

- University of Science and Technology provides several means of financial support for students.

- Students requesting financial support are required to apply for it.

- Financial support is given in the form of a fixed reduction from the cost of study, which varies from 0 % reduction to 100 % reduction depending on the student's family financial status.

1) CALCULATION OF NEED BASED FINANCIAL SUPPORT

Financial need is defined as the difference between the tuition fee costs of attending the UST programs and the amount a student or family can contribute towards these costs.

2) HOW TO APPLY?

- Students can apply by filling the financial Support application form obtained from the Admissions & Registration Office.
• Students are required to submit the application with the required supporting documents to the Office of Admission and Registration prior to the deadline.

3) Eligibility for Financial Support
• For eligibility to apply for financial support, certain requirements must be met:
  o Enrolment or acceptance for enrolment.
  o Demonstration of financial need through submission of the financial support application and supporting documents.

• The Committee of Student Financial Affairs will process, review, and verify all applications received with supporting documents.

5) Notification
• Students eligible for financial support will receive a confidential notification, showing the amount of financial support.
• The amount of financial Support granted to each student will be fixed throughout their course of study at UST (4 years for science majors and 5 years for engineering majors), given that the student maintains eligibility for financial support.

6) Maintainability
• To maintain the financial support award without evaluation, undergraduate students must maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or above and maintain a full-time status (12 credit hours per semester or above).
• An exception from the credit hours criteria applies to graduating senior students during their final semester; where then the financial support award will be calculated in proportion with the number of registered credits.

7) Renewal
• Undergraduates who were granted financial support do not have to renew their financial support applications on a yearly basis as long as they meet the above-mentioned criteria.
• Undergraduates who fail to meet the above-mentioned criteria must submit a financial support regaining form. A renewal of their financial support will be subject to an evaluation of their academic performance.

  - The missing material
  - Actions necessary for removal of the incomplete
- In such a case a grade of “I”, for “incomplete” is assigned. The students must make arrangements with the professor to complete the course within one month after the beginning of the next academic session/semester. Failure to complete the course within one month after the beginning of the new academic session causes the grade in that course to be recorded as “F”, signifying failure.
- If students have one incomplete grade, their academic load limit the following semester will not be affected. If they have more than one incomplete grade, the credit hours of the incomplete will be included in their academic load for the following semester.
- Students who receive an incomplete grade(s) while on warning due to deficiency in their overall grade point average will not be allowed to register the following semester. If, however, they complete their incomplete work before the end of the late registration period, and are academically eligible, they will be allowed to proceed with registration.

- Students may repeat up to five courses with the Dean's approval.

- Students are normally allowed to repeat failed courses for both grade and credit. However, the failing grade received for reasons of academic dishonesty will not be subject to repeat.

- Repeating the same course for the third time is not considered and the average of the last two grades is counted in the grade point average.
